

People Strategy 2024 - 2028

Argyll and Bute Council People Strategy

Every day our workforce finds creative ways to overcome the challenges of reducing budgets and our vast geography, to deliver services to the communities of Argyll and Bute. As the council transforms its operating model to deliver our Connect for Success principles, our people remain the single most important asset we have in delivering on our ambitious corporate outcomes. This People Strategy outlines the strategic objectives we will achieve in relation to our people over the period until 2028

Linked to our People Strategy are our Strategic Workforce Planning priorities. We review our strategic workforce planning outlook and assumptions annually and any actions from this review, will be incorporated into our annual people strategy delivery plan.

PEOPLE STRATEGY THEME

Attracting and Keeping

Talented people

EXPLANATION

In the post-pandemic labour market attracting and retaining talented people is proving challenging in a number of areas: from national shortages in the social work and social care workforce, to the local challenges we face staffing some of our lifeline ferry services to the Islands. Attracting and retaining talent will be key to our council's success over the life of this strategy.

We have a lot to offer as an employer. Our unique area means we have to find unique and creative ways to deliver our services. We think that makes us stand out as an employer with interesting roles and opportunities. We can directly contribute to the Council's abplace2b aspirations by developing our employer brand and marketing the varied career paths and favourable employment deal on offer by the council and by continuing to develop a pipeline of talent into our workforce through our Growing Our Own activities.

PEOPLE STRATEGY THEME

Creating a One Council, One place culture

EXPLANATION

We have big ambitions for our council and our area and we recognise that working together with each other and with our partners is the best and most effective way to achieve those ambitions. To support our Connect for Success programme our leaders will collaborate across team and organisational boundaries for the greater good of our area. They will empower their teams to come up with creative and cost effective approaches to delivering the services that support achievement of our mission and purpose

As a leader for our area, we want to make it as easy as possible for individuals and groups to work with us in achieving the best outcomes for Argyll and Bute.
